DR. CARL F. CHRIST

in Presenting

GEORGE HEBERTON EVANS, JR.

for the Degree of Doctor of Laws

Mr. President, no university has been blessed with a more dedicated son than George Heberton Evans, Jr. He arrived at Johns Hopkins in 1916, the year the Homewood Campus was opened. Here he grew from freshman to Doctor of Philosophy, from instructor to professor. Here he served as department chairman for 18 years, and as the first and only Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy. As chairman, he attracted outstanding faculty and students to the Political Economy Department. During his seven years as Dean, his long-range vision, planning, and judgment were cornerstones of the University's development. His advice and counsel have served the University and its members well on many occasions.

His scholarly work over the years has deepened our knowledge of entrepreneurship and the corporate form of economic activity. He has devoted great care to his students, among whom are numbered two bank presidents and several of today's leading scholars in economics and economic history.

To all of his work he has brought high standards, absolute fairness, wisdom, and kindness. For fifty-four years he has given much to Johns Hopkins. Mr. President, it is most fitting that the University honor George Heberton Evans, Jr. with the degree of Doctor of Laws.

WILDER PENFIELD

for the Degree of Doctor of Laws

Mr. President, Professor Wilder Penfield is a graduate of Princeton and Oxford Universities, a Rhodes scholar, a member of the class of 1918 of the School of Medicine of The Johns Hopkins University, and a student of Osler, Sherrington, and Cajal.

He single-handedly created and for three decades directed the finest institute of neurology and neurosurgery in the world. First among neurosurgeons, the teacher of the teachers of two of its generations, Penfield placed his own inimitable stamp upon a vital field of science, and of medicine. His students grace its chairs the world around. He charted brain geography, mapping the representation of motor and sensory functions in the cerebral cortex of man. His studies of the divine disease, epilepsy, contributed immeasurably to its adequate treatment, and led him to important humanistic studies of the age of Hippocrates. His contributions to understanding the normal function of the human brain, especially its record of conscious experience, and towards an eventual solution of the mind-brain problem, stand as beacons to scientist, clinician, and philosopher alike.

Beyond that, The Johns Hopkins University wishes to honor Professor Penfield as a warm and sensitive human being, a great and gentle physician, one concerned throughout his long and productive life with the welfare of his fellow-man, and the philosophical wellsprings of the human condition. We salute him as a law-giver concerning the function of the brain, with an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

CURT PAUL RICHTER

for the Degree of Doctor of Laws

Mr. President, I have the honor to present for the degree of Doctor of Laws, Curt Paul Richter, distinguished Johns Hopkins professor, imaginative investigator of human behavior, and enlightened humanist.

Curt Richter was born in Denver but received his early education in Dresden, in the rigorous intellectual tradition of the old Germany. Following degrees from Harvard and Johns Hopkins, he began a remarkable research career in what was then a new science, psychobiology. For some fifty years, using the Phipps Clinic of the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions as a base, he has conducted free-ranging investigations linking physiological and mental processes. His research on periodic variations in biological mechanisms has led to a classical monograph on "Biological Clocks in Medicine and Psychiatry." Experiments on selection of foods by laboratory animals have provided new insights into problems of human nutrition.

His honors include membership in the National Academy of Sciences, an honorary degree from the University of Chicago, and designation as Distinguished Citizen of Denver in 1958. He continues to be scientifically productive.

Mr. President, it is a singular pleasure to present to you for this honorary degree one of Johns Hopkins' most illustrious scientists—Curt P. Richter.

BENJAMIN HARRISON WILLIER

for the Degree of Doctor of Laws

Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you for the degree of Doctor of Laws, my teacher, Benjamin Harrison Willier, pioneering and gifted experimentalist, rigorous yet fairest of critics, warm friend and inspiring teacher of embryologists, Henry Walters Professor and Chairman of the Department of Biology of this University for nearly two decades, currently Professor Emeritus—and devoted student of the embryo.

Of all the areas of biology, none is more challenging than the realm of embryonic differentiation, and within this territory he has, for over fifty years, been exploring the mechanisms whereby there emerge from a single-celled beginning, integrated multicellularity, diversified tissues, organismic wholeness. "Development" is the unifying theme in his life: development not only of the embryo, but also of his science, of the University, of his department, of his students. He will be remembered not only for his analytic approach and creative syntheses in embryology and development genetics, but also for his decisive leadership in the growth of the biological sciences within the University and in the maturation of his students and "scientific grandchildren," through whom the rich heritage of Whitman, Lillie, and Willier is alive in classrooms and laboratories across the nation.

Mr. President, we recognize in Professor Willier the spirit of the University's beginnings in graduate education and the epitome of her contemporary vitality.

CLIFTON R. WHARTON, JR.

for the Degree of Doctor of Laws

Mr. President, in my ten years as Dean of the School of Advanced International Studies, it has been my privilege to present a goodly number of outstanding individuals to the President of this University for honorary degrees. None has given me greater pleasure than the presentation I make to you today.

In this distinguished gathering, I hesitate to refer to Clifton Wharton as a "whiz kid." In an academic atmosphere where postdoctoral students abound, that may sound a bit undignified. The fact remains that at the tender age of forty-three he is a world-recognized expert on the economics of poverty and development and has just taken over the presidency of one of the largest universities in America—Michigan State.

An able administrator, teacher, researcher, and author, Dr. Wharton has devoted his efforts and intellect throughout his successful career to solving the problems of economic and agricultural growth in the developing nations.

Son of America's first Negro career diplomat, the honorable Clifton Wharton, Sr., who served as ambassador to Norway and Rumania, Dr. Wharton entered Harvard at sixteen. While an undergraduate, he demonstrated his leadership ability and was founder and first national secretary of the U. S. National Student Association.

In 1948, he received his M. A. in international studies from the School of Advanced International Studies. He continues today to serve the School and Johns Hopkins as a valued member of the SAIS Advisory Council. He worked for five years with the American International Association for Economic and Social Development, specializing on the problems of Latin America. Later he became a research associate on technical assistance at the University of Chicago. While there, he earned his M. A. in 1956 and his Ph. D. in 1958 in the field of economics. Upon joining the Agricultural Development Council, where he served as vice president, he spent six years in Malaysia teaching and working on the Council's program in Thailand, Vietnam, and Cambodia. In 1966, he was a member of President Johnson's Task Force on Agriculture in Vietnam, and last summer he served as the agronomist on the Presidential mission to Latin America with Governor Rockefeller.

Dr. Wharton's career has marked him as one of the truly able young men of his time—a high achiever who continually pursues his ethic of service to others. Despite the serious difficulties which beset our country today, when I see men like Cliff Wharton I have great confidence in the future of America.

We recognize him today for these past achievements and for the new and higher levels of distinction he will reach in his newest undertaking as President of Michigan State University. Those of us who are privileged to know him well are endeared of his warm manner, incisive mind, and constant concern that the powers of one's intellect and one's country be used to solve the ills of mankind. It is for me both a personal privilege and an honor to present to you for the degree of Doctor of Laws our distinguished alumnus, Clifton R. Wharton, Jr.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University Mace carried by the Chief Marshal, Professor Carl F. Christ, was first used at the 1954 Commemoration Day Exercises. Eight symbols are hand wrought in sterling silver on an ebony staff. The symbols represent man's cultural development from ancient times, through the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, to the modern era.

THE PRESIDENTIAL INSIGNIA

University President Lincoln Gordon is wearing the Presidential Insignia signifying the authority vested in the President by the Board of Trustees. It is a chain of sterling silver links worn around the neck. Portraits of each of the nine Johns Hopkins University presidents are engraved on the faces of nine of the links. On the reverse are engraved the names and dates of office of each President. Eleven blank links for future use are included. The University Seal completes the design.

ACADEMIC DRESS

The custom of wearing academic dress stems from the Middle Ages, when scholars were also clerics and wore the costume of their monastic order. The hood was originally a cowl attached to the gown, which could be slipped over the head for warmth. The cap, originally round, later became the square mortar-board as we see it today.

Today the cap is the same for all American degrees, although the recipient of a doctoral degree is entitled to wear a gold tassel. The gown varies for the respective degrees. The Bachelor's gown is worn closed and can be distinguished by its long, pointed sleeves. The Master's gown is designed to be open with the arms worn through the slits in the elbows of the sleeves. The Doctor's gown, also worn open, has full, bell-shaped sleeves with three horizontal bars stitched across the upper arm. There is a velvet panel draped around the neck and stitched down the front edges. This velvet trimming may be either black or the same color as the velvet border of the hood.

The hood also varies for the respective degrees. The Bachelor's and Master's hoods are of the same design, pointed at the base. The Bachelor's hood is three feet long; the Master's hood is three and one half feet long. The Doctor's hood is four feet long, of fuller shape and rounded at the base.

The hood is bordered with velvet, the color of which indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned:

Dark blue — Philosophy
Light blue — Education
Orange — Engineering
Gold-yellow — Science

Green — Medicine
Salmon pink — Public Health
Pink — Music
Purple — Laws

White — Arts and Letters

The silk lining of the hood represents the institution which granted the degree. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree is worn. The Johns Hopkins University has adopted an alternative costume to be used by all holding Johns Hopkins doctoral degrees, both earned and honorary. The costume will consist of a gold robe with front and side panels in sable velvet and a six-sided Dutch academic cap with gold sweatband and tassel. The linings seen in today's academic procession may include:

Black, old gold chevron — Johns Hopkins
Light blue, white chevron — Columbia
Dark blue — Yale
Blue with white chevron — Duke
Dark blue, two orange chevrons — Illinois
Light blue, two white chevrons — North Carolina
Old gold, maroon chevron — Minnesota
Old gold — Iowa
Gold, blue chevron — California
Gold — Virginia
Purple, gold chevron — Northwestern

Purple — New York University
Bright red — Wisconsin
Plum, with scarlet — London
Maroon — Chicago
Crimson — Harvard
Carnelian, two white chevrons — Cornell
Cardinal — Stanford
Red, tri-chevron in center — Heidelberg
Dandelion yellow — Michigan
Maize, azure blue chevron — Sorbonne
Yellow and white — Rochester

MASTERS OF SCIENCE

in The Evening College

CHARLES ROBERT ABBOTT, of Reisterstown, Md., B. S. University of Akron, 1961. Management Science.	JOSEPH BALLO, JR., of Laurel, Md., B. A. Northeastern University, 1968. Numerical Science.
RICHARD JOHN ANDERSEN, of Baltimore, Md., B. S. E. University of Michigan, 1962. Management Science.	STEPHEN MICHAEL BANKO, of Laurel, Md., B. S. University of Scranton, 1966. Numerical Science.
RICHARD LANE ANDERSON, of Rockville, Md., B. S. Bucknell University, 1961. Management Science.	ALVIN LEONARD BARD, of Randallstown, Md., B. S. Towson State College (Md.), 1960. Numerical Science.

- WILMA ANN BARGER, of Laurel, Md., B. S. University of Maryland, 1964. Numerical Science.
- DONNA LEE BARKER, of Washington, D. C., A. B. Wheaton College, 1967. Numerical Science.
- STEPHEN ROBERT BAST, of Bowie, Md., B. E. E. Pratt Institute, 1966. Electrical Engineering.
- WALTER LOREN BLACK, of Upper Falls, Md., B. S. University of Illinois, 1937. Management Science.
- SANDY LACY BRAGG, of Laurel, Md., B. S. E., West Virginia University, 1961. Electrical Engineering.
- JOSEPH MICHAEL BRUCKLER, of Miami, Fla., B. S. University of Florida, 1967. Electrical Engineering.
- WILLIAM EDWARD BRUNDICK, of Glen Burnie, Md., B. S. M. E. Drexel Institute of Technology, 1965. Management Science.
- ROGER VINCENT BUCK, of Columbia, Md., B. S. University of Washington, 1964. Numerical Science.
- DAVID RICHARD CAREY, of Ellicott City, Md., B. S. E. The Johns Hopkins University, 1967. Numerical Science.
- MARTIN STEPHEN CASSIDY, of Baltimore, Md., B. A., B. E. E. University of Delaware, 1965. Management Science.
- FREDERICK DEAN CHAMBERLIN, of Los Olivos, Calif., B. S. E. E. Colorado State University, 1965. Electrical Engineering.
- GORDON EDWARD COUPERTHWAIT, of Baltimore, Md., B. S. E. E. Michigan Technological University, 1963. Management Science.
- ANDREW PAUL COX, JR., of Lutherville, Md., B. E. S. The Johns Hopkins University, 1959. Management Science.
- JOHN BALLANTINE DASH, of Glen Burnie, Md., B. S. E. The Johns Hopkins University, 1964. Numerical Science.
- MARVIN ARTHUR DEAN, of Baltimore, Md., B. E. E. Cooper Union, 1949; M. S. E. E. Columbia University, 1958. Management Science.
- BARBARA BARNES DEKOVIC, of Laurel, Md., B. S. University of Illinois, 1967. Numerical Science.
- ELLA BECK DOBSON, of Hyattsville, Md., B. A. Fisk University, 1960. Numerical Science.
- JOHN EUGENE DONOHUE, of Derwood, Md., B. S. E. Case Institute of Technology, 1952. Management Science.
- JOSEPH EDWARD DUNN, of Laurel, Md., B. S. in E. E. Pennsylvania State University, 1957; M. S. George Washington University, 1966. Management Science.
- WINSTON OWEN EDWARDS, of Philadelphia, Pa., B. A. Lincoln University, 1965. Numerical Science.
- DAVID MARLIN ESPENSHADE, of Alexandria, Va., B. S. E. E. Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1967. Numerical Science.
- DONALD WARREN FAHEY, of Baltimore, Md., B. S. E. Loyola College, 1962; B. E. S. The Johns Hopkins University, 1964. Management Science.
- CARL NORMAN FAUNTLEROY, JR., of Washington, D. C., B. A. Hampton Institute, 1962. Numerical Science.
- JOSEPH LOUIS FELDER, of Baltimore, Md., B. S. The Johns Hopkins University, 1967. Management Science.
- JOHN LOUIS FLATER, JR., of Lutherville, Md., B. S. E. The Johns Hopkins University, 1964. Management Science.
- KARL ARTHUR FRIBERG, of Baltimore, Md., A. B. Dartmouth College, 1967; B. S. E. E. Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1968. Electrical Engineering.
- GUY HARLAN FRINDELL, of Silver Spring, Md., B. S. E. E. Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1966. Electrical Engineering.
- GARY PAUL GAFKE, of Columbia, Md., B. S. E. E. University of Wisconsin, 1967. Electrical Engineering.
- DAVID ROBERT GAMBREL, of University Park, Fla., B. S. E. E. Purdue University, 1965. Electrical Engineering.
- RIMANTAS GLEMZA, of Baltimore, Md., A. B. Rutgers University, 1957; M. A. The Johns Hopkins University, 1961; Ph. D., 1963. Electrical Engineering.
- GEORGE GLUCK, of Boulder, Colo., B. S. Brooklyn College, 1967. Numerical Science.
- ALLEN JAY GOLDBERG, of Silver Spring, Md., B. S. Cornell University, 1968. Numerical Science.
- SEYMOUR NORMAN GOLDSTEIN, of Silver Spring, Md., B. S. Brooklyn College, 1967. Numerical Science.
- SIDNEY GROLLMAN, of Randallstown, Md., B. S. E. The Johns Hopkins University, 1967. Electrical Engineering.
- ROBERT LEROY HARROUN III, of Reston, Va., B. S. E. The Johns Hopkins University, 1965. Electrical Engineering.
- DOUGLAS BRUCE HELMUTH, of Towson, Md., B. S. E. E. Carnegie-Mellon University, 1968. Electrical Engineering.
- JAMES ALLEN HENDERSON, of Baltimore, Md., B. S. United States Naval Academy, 1962. Management Science.
- EDWIN WILLIAM CHARLES HILDEBRAND, JR., of Ellicott City, Md., B. S. E. The Johns Hopkins University, 1965. Numerical Science.
- THOMAS IGNATIUS HIMMELHEBER, of Cockeysville, Md., B. S. Loyola College, 1961. Management Science.
- ALEXANDER STARR HUGHES, of College Park, Md., B. S. E. E. Lafayette College, 1962. Electrical Engineering.

- CHARLES LEO HUGHES, JR., of Baltimore, Md., B. S. United States Naval Academy, 1959; B. E. E. University of Virginia, 1965. Management Science.
- FREDERIC JAMES JACOBY, of Laurel, Md., B. S. E. E. Worcester Polytechnic Institute, 1963. Numerical Science.
- HERMENZO D. JONES, of Newark, N. J., B. S. Fairleigh Dickinson University, 1966. Physics.
Spectroscopic Properties of the Absorption Spectrum of  $GdCl_3 \cdot 6H_2O$ .
- BARRY KAMINSKY, of Baltimore, Md., B. S. M. E. University of Maryland, 1963; M. E. Stevens Institute of Technology, 1965. Management Science.
- G. STANLEY GORDON KINKAID, of South Shields, England, B. S. Kings College, University of Durham, New Castle, England, 1962. Numerical Science.
- WILLIAM FRANCIS KNANNLEIN, of Glen Burnie, Md., B. S. in E. E. Rose Polytechnic Institute, 1968. Electrical Engineering.
- MATTHEW PAUL KRISTOF, of Millersville, Md., B. S. Pennsylvania State University, 1965. Management Science.
- CAROLE JEAN LAKE, of Baltimore, Md., B. A. Gettysburg College, 1968. Numerical Science.
