

Burnham, D. H.

*D. H. Burnham.
C. B. Steward.
E. R. Graham.
E. C. Shankland.*

D. H. Burnham & Co.

Architects.

The Rookery.

Chicago.

October 11th, 1895.

045

Doctor D. C. Gilman,

Kimball House, Atlanta, Georgia.

Dear Sir:-

I have just been notified by some clients of mine of an intended visit to my office on Monday the 21st instant, on a matter of the utmost importance to all concerned, and am therefore compelled to change the date of my visit to Atlanta.

Instead of spending as much time as I had previously thought to do with the American Institute of Architects in St. Louis, I shall leave there on the evening of the 15th instant and will arrive in Atlanta on the following day.

I trust that this change of dates will in no way inconvenience you, and that it will be as agreeable to you as it is to me.

I have the honor to remain,

Yours very truly,

D. H. Burnham

D. H. Burnham

Oct. 11/95