

Solicits Employment at Fairs this Season.

Terms Moderate.

SATISFACTORY REFERENCES FURNISHED.

FRANK A. LOVELOCK,

Expert Judge of Pure-Bred Live Stock and Poultry.

Author of "Lovelock's American Standard of Excellence," and Secretary of the Roanoke Valley Poultry Association.

MR. LOVELOCK served as expert judge during the season of 1894 at Trenton, N. J., Kittanning, Indiana, Bethlehem and York, Penn., Wheeling and Lewisburg, W. Va., Baltimore, Marlboro', Easton, Hagerstown and Frederick, Md., Staunton, Va., Raleigh, N. C., Macon, Ga., and Columbia, S. C., also at the New Berne, N. C., Mid-Winter Fair, held in February, 1895.

Lovelock, F. A.
Dr Gilman

H
Dear Sir

Palem, Virginia, Sept^r " 21st , 1895.
Allentown, Pa.

I was in your city last week, judging at Timonium and from there came to Bethlehem and Allentown, where I award premiums at both Fairs to the live-stock and then next week go to Trenton, N. J., I take the liberty of mailing you a copy of my book, which is a compilation of the official Standards of Excellence for judging pure-bred cattle, sheep and swine adopted by the different Breeders Associations of the U. S. If, after seeing it, you should order the live-stock at Atlanta to be judged by the official Standard of Excellence of each breed, I shall be pleased to send to your order, free of all charges, 3 or 4 copies of this work, for use of the judges at the Exposition, of which I still have hopes of being one of that honored body.

Respectfully

F. A. Lovelock.