Dr Boas to Speak At IRC Meeting Next Wednesday

Dr George Boas will speak at the second meeting of the International relations club at 6 p.m. next Wednesday on the topic, The American Foreign Policy in Respect to France. It was announced this week by David Phillips, secretary of the club.

At the first meeting of the summer term, Dr Isaiah Bowman spoke to the club on America's Foreign Policy. The meeting was held on July 14, Wednesday, in the Sherwood room of Levering hall.

In his speech Dr Bowman stated that there was only one universal peace; the only thing that the people of the various countries have ever agreed on is a desire for peace.

Speaking on the Declaration of Independence, Dr Bowman said that at the time of its creation it was a revolutionary doctrine. It proclaimed the people's right to liberty, property and property, at a time when no other nation held such truths to be self-evident.

Daize Baretta is acting president in the absence of Charlie Crow, who is out of school because of a broken arm.

Greenfield Hopkins undergraduates will receive a four-week vacation at the close of this semester, it was announced last week by P Stewart Macaulay, President of the University. The vacation, which will extend from September 11 to October 8, will allow both the civilian and Army Specialized Training Program students to start the next term concurrently. The army term, which was late in starting, began on July 12 and will end not until October 4.

The Army arrived on the campus on June 14, in the form of the 3312th Service Unit, ASTU. The unit is under the command of Lt. Col. Harry M. Ovyn, and includes the 344 men here at Homewood; 160 students at the Hampton Normal school which makes up the basic ROTC department. It is expected that the unit will be increased to a strength of 460 men, making up the entire of the ROTC, at the end of the semester through the arrival of advanced training engineers and enlisted men from the group at Homewood.

Engineering and Language and Area are the two courses being offered to the students. The engineering program will consist of the regular civilian program for the first three terms, in addition to military subjects. At the end of that time the men will be specialized training engineers in normal education.

Three languages, French, German, and Italian, are taught in the Language and Area course, which trains men in the linguistic studies, the men are being drafted to the United States in addition to their linguistic studies, the men are being drafted to the United States in addition to their linguistic studies, the men are being drafted to the United States in addition to their linguistic studies, the men are being drafted to the United States in addition to their linguistic studies, the men are being drafted.

Extracurricular Activities

There are many opportunities for both freshmen and upperclassmen in extracurricular activities at the Hopkins. The following is a brief summary of what each activity has to offer.

NEWSPAPER: Opportunities on both editorial and business staffs are available. Although there are several groups more professional in style, the students who are interested in journalism will find opportunities for development here. The staff editors are appointed by the editor, and anyone interested in trying out for either staff should apply to F. Bosso, editor.

COTTON: The staff of the Cotton has been in existence for several years and is well known for its excellence. The staff of the Cotton will be established soon after the end of the fall semester and will continue during the winter months. The Cotton is published weekly and is distributed free of charge to all members of the student body. The Cotton is edited by students under the guidance of the staff editor.

ASSOCIATED COLLEGE PRESS: The Associated College Press is a student organization that publishes a monthly newspaper called the Student News. The Student News is distributed free of charge to all members of the student body. The Student News is edited by students under the guidance of the staff editor.

YMCA: The YMCA offers many channels for extracurricular activities to the Hopkins student. The YMCA is a religious group that is open to all members of the student body. The YMCA is edited by students under the guidance of the staff editor.

UNIVERSITY BAND: The university band is open to all members of the student body. The band is directed by Charles Beachley, box 24.

BARNSTORMERS: The Barnstormers intend to put on one or two plays this season. The Barnstormers are a student group that is open to all members of the student body. The Barnstormers are directed by students under the guidance of the staff editor.

HULLABALOO: The Hullabaloo is a student yearbook that is published annually. The Hullabaloo is open to all members of the student body. The Hullabaloo is edited by students under the guidance of the staff editor.

Association of College Press: The Associated College Press is a student organization that publishes a monthly newspaper called the Student News. The Student News is distributed free of charge to all members of the student body. The Student News is edited by students under the guidance of the staff editor.

Welcome

Approximately 350 ASTU students have arrived on campus and are now taking courses at the Hopkins. The NEWSPAPER is seeking new and active members to welcome them and to make the most of the facilities which the Hopkins offers them.

The activities of the army students will necessarily be restricted rather severely, owing to army requirements.
The Pink Czar's Revenge, Or, "Die Like a Dog, You Villain!"

by Russ Baker

One of the hangovers from the nearing 39s is in the upcoming wartime revival is that peculiar form of setting more popularity known as professional wrestling. Washington, Boston, Buffalo, and this city are experiencing an increasing demand for Golden Terrors, Purple Secrets, Masked Marvels, Anges, Omaha Hurricanes, and other varieties of gnashed teeth who have a flair for the dramatic.

The plot is simple and the acting requirements low. Each actor opens show with his own patented speech or rant. Then they proceed to kick, bite, pull hair, gouge eyes, scream or roar. They then proceed to the locker rooms to rehearse the drama. Few of the spectators, however, come out the better for it. The drama is served both at the dormitory and in the Sherwood diner. The audience consists of the entire campus.

This is not to say that the spas, wrestling's position in the social strata of entertainment lies somewhere near the bottom. Obviously the Blue Jay revolution did not come to pass because the fans got the impression that they were being cheated. The Blue Jay is mislabeled. The past few years have been rather bad. Gail Mallon may try to breathe life into one more football affair, but we can't hope for very good results, in view of the material. Gym, class exercises, organized athletics, and desperate pre-med students aren't material for building successful football teams.

Draft Defenders Standardized

According to Dr Sidney Payton, armed forces representative on the campus, the requirements for deferment are now standardized. If an engineer, a chemistry major, or a physics major will graduate within the next two years and meet these exams from the time he applied for deferment, and he is under the care and supervision of a competent doctor, he will be deferred.

A pre-med student will receive deferral if he is under the care and supervision of a competent doctor and has already been accepted to medical school at the time he is applying for deferment, and providing his scholastic record is satisfactory.

ASTU Activities

The next issue of the News-Letter will carry the first of a series of articles written by special ASTU correspondents and devoted to news of interest to the army branch stationed here. Lack of space prevented the column from being included in this issue, but future issues it will be a standard feature of the paper.

Voyage Will Coordinate Army, Civilian Schedules

The classes will elect one of the three men by ballot to serve on the committee, along with four family members of the chemistry department.

Meetings of the committee will be held to discuss the needs of the army branch stationed here. It will probably meet once a month. The meetings will be held after consultations with the family members on the committee, and when possible, by telegraph conference. The committee will consist of one representative from each branch.

Last winter I stated in this column that Martin Zimmerman has been selected vice-president of the campus. The students are now expected to make the vice-presidentially automatic that makes him Chairman of the Home Front Committee.

It was also announced by the Student council that interpreters of classical music will be held to be held in the Sherwood Memorial Hall of the Hopkins Y. Monday and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m., Frank W. Loven, graduate student of the Hopkins Y announced that in cooperation with the War department, Ray Burr will make the selection of records from a collection of well-known tapes and other orchestral music. All Hopkins and Loyola students are cordially invited to attend.

News-Letter Elects Editors; Training Classes Begin for New Candidates

The new staff editors of the News-Letter, elected at the last of July, look forward with high hopes to the publication of this issue. The new editors are as follows: Bill Snyder, editor-in-chief; Kettie Bert, co-editor; Stanley Greenfield, co-copy editor; and Grover Jorden, co-change editor. Bill Snyder, sports editor; Horace Slagle, business editor; and Marie Grove, feature editor, retained their positions.

Dedon became affiliated with the News-Letter staff in the fall of 1941 and as a sports reporter during his freshman year. He was elected to the position of managing editor after his sophomore year, and held this position until the first half of his junior year. He remained the editor-in-chief until his election as editor-in-chief.

Mae Botta joined the staff last February as a copy editor, and had made a number of outstanding contributions to the News-Letter during her tenure as editor-in-chief. Greenfield joined the News-Letter staff last fall as a news reporter and served in Three New Members Will be Appointed to Honor Commission

The student council in the near future will appoint two new members to replace those who have left Hopkins, entered the service, according to Martin Zimmerman, chairman of the commission. The remaining four members of the commission are Frank Wright, executive secretary; W. P. Wyman, who is the assistant; Roy Schlenger, and Zimmerman.

During the past term the Honor Commission held two trials for alleged violations of the Honor system. One student was found guilty of a minor violation and his name was placed on the black list. The other student was declared not guilty.

This year, Pfeffer and Starnes, officers of the Military Club, have been assigned the position of Assistant professor of Military Science and received Army training at Camp Wheeler, has been assigned the position of Assistant professor of Military Science and received Army training at Camp Wheeler, has been assigned the position of Assistant professor of Military Science and received Army training at Camp Wheeler.

Students are urged by Martin Zimmerman, chairman of the commission, to remember that the success of the Honor system is dependent upon the cooperation of the entire student body. The commission wishes to stress the idea that a person accusing a violation should first inform the guilty party that he has been seen violating the Honor system. If the offender perseveres in his actions after the warning he should be reported to the Honor commission, Box 1096.

To the editor, Mr. Zimmerman, the reporter of a violation is not a ‘snitcher’, but a character worthy to bear the name of a student of the Honor commission. The commission gives all accused the right of a fair trial. A first offender is seldom expelled; however, in addition to whatever punishment is meted out to the student’s name, there is the punishment that a person who is shown to be a confirmed violator.

Under-the-stars Dance Successful: Adkins

The YMCA-sponsored under-the-stars dance held last Saturday night in front of Levering Hall was a very successful. Paul Adkins, chairman of the Dance committee, stated that the program was very successful.

Music was furnished by recordings. Adkins said that a fancy coat, a coat of the same color, was returned to the students in the form of a fine stamp. A similar dance will probably be held later in the summer, said Adkins.

The referees pleaded with the Terrier to give up the grip, the hero stood his ground, the referee to help him bear his agony; the fans pleaded in burial, hoarse voices. 'Don’t give up, George; don’t give up.'

The Terrier twisted the big more: the referee pleaded louder; the fans begged their hero. —-Give up, George, don’t give up.

Then the Terrier sent a swift kick into the stomach of the wrestling champion. Assuming a Mississipi chin and looking at the customers, the Terrier was then escorted to his dressing room by the police.

The fans looked at their feet and shook their heads at the monster, the theater shook with the excitement of the wrestling match.

It is tradition, said Zimmerman, that the reporter of a violation is not a ‘snitcher’, but a character worthy to bear the name of a student of the Honor commission. The commission gives all accused the right of a fair trial. A first offender is seldom expelled; however, in addition to whatever punishment is meted out to the student’s name, there is the punishment that a person who is shown to be a confirmed violator.
