She didn't say "Yes," She didn't say "No," She didn't say "stay," She didn't say "Yes," She didn't say "No," She wanted to stay, But didn't say "go." She only knew that he had spied her there knew she should go, She wasn't so sure that he'd be good

And then she knew he sat beside her there. At first there was heard Not She wasn't even sure that she'd be good. She wanted to rest All one little word. Then coyly she took One sly little look And cuddled and pressed A palpable part Of somebody's heart. She something awoke and smiled inside, Her heart began beating loved to be "en rapport" with him, But not behind a bolted wild inside. So what did she do? I leave it to you, She door with him. And what did she do? I leave it to you, She
